About Us

At the Port Angeles Fine Art Center, we believe arts enrichment is the perfect means for bringing people together to create stronger connections, spark creativity, and inspire community ingenuity.

We aim to create opportunities for all people to engage with art. In the past year, we've provided direct service to over 8,000 people through our programs, welcomed 5,813 visits to the gallery and 31,000+ visits to our Sculpture Park.

Our community support includes gallery and outdoor exhibits, community talks, workshops, free school field trips, free classroom education, and 3 outdoor festivals, drawing people together with live music, food and drink, and family-friendly interactive art activities.

Our goal

*Connect people to the arts &
Inspire the artist in every person.*

Benefits for Sponsors

You invest, we deliver.

Expand Your Reach

Last year through our events, public space, and online communications we connected with over 40,000 people. As a sponsor you will have the opportunity connect with our audience.

Maximize Impact

Through our exhibitions we highlight both local artists and those from around the world, bring unique and free opportunities to engage with high caliber visual art, and build programming that creates community. Together we can generate greater community connection, more visitors, and more tourism dollars within our community.

Leverage Your Community Investment

By sponsoring you are investing in access to free and affordable arts programming & education throughout the year for our community. When you support us, our supporters are more likely to support you!

2026 Exhibitions

■ Field Notes

April 10th - July 5th

Field Notes is a visual love letter to the birds of the Pacific Northwest—an exhibition where art, observation, and reverence for the natural world converge. Inspired by the legacy of John James Audubon and rooted deeply in the unique ecology of this region, the show brings together contemporary artists whose work responds to the presence of birds not only as subjects of beauty, but as symbols of change, migration, resilience, and interconnectedness.

■ Kinship: A Collaboration with Nature July 17th - Sept 13th

Kinship invites viewers into the wonder of nature and time. Bringing together contemporary artists who work with living materials, ecological processes, and forms drawn from the natural world, this exhibition considers how nature itself becomes a collaborator in shaping artistic expression. Rather than fixed objects, the works here unfold through growth, decay, weather, and care—reminding us that living systems are always in motion.

■ Paste & Paper

September 25th - November 9th

Paper and Paste is an exhibition about transformation—how something as simple as a sheet of paper can become a world of its own. Here, artists fold, cut, layer, and glue to push paper beyond its familiar boundaries. Sheets transform into sculptural forms; cutouts open into delicate windows of light and space. Every surface holds the possibility of a new form. In these works, paper becomes both structure and story, both surface and substance.

Paper and Paste invites you to discover how the simplest of materials can be reshaped into imaginative new stories.
